

NATIONALS ERRORS HELP TRIBE TO WIN--TWO GAMES SCHEDULED TODAY--DEMPSEY SIGNS TO FIGHT BRENNAN

Aided by Misplays, Indians Take Third Game; Score 8 to 4

Hitting 'em where they ain't has often been advertised as the way to win ball games, but the Indians varied the formula by hitting 'em where they were yesterday, achieving such signal success that they again came from behind and took the third straight game from the Nationals, score 8 to 4.

For six rounds Jezebel Tecumseh Zachary pitched shutout ball and was breezing along under a three-run lead with no thought of rocks ahead. It looked like easy money for the silent southpaw until his support cracked and fell to pieces in the seventh and eighth, helping the enemy to ring up four runs in each round.

Harby Steno 'Em Cold. Any hope the Nationals had of staging a rally to redeem themselves was shattered when Jim Bagby, the league's hurling sensation, marched out to save the situation in the seventh, with two on and the fourth Washington runner scored. He fulfilled Manager Speaker's confidence by retiring the side, and thereafter the homelings never had a chance.

They were leaning against Zachary's offerings pretty heavily in those two big innings, but he put a lot of confidence in his support. It was confidence misplaced on this occasion.

Milan started the epidemic by dropping a line drive in the seventh and Harris caught the habit a minute later. Aided by these misplays the Tribe's four hits were good for, as many runs. In the eighth Harris and Ellerbe again erred in the pinches and the score of the previous round was duplicated with the aid of three hostile hits.

Errors Come in Pinches. Perfect play would have staved the side without a runner in the eighth when, with two on and one out, Zachary filled the sacks by raving O'Neill. The strategy put the Nationals in position to end the game with a double play in the opportunity arose and Bagby, a week later, was up.

Bagby rapped a fast one to Harris. He pitched in front of it and the expected double play appeared to be in sight. But he muffed the ball, and the runner, O'Neill, on Ellerbe gathered in a tap and might have forced Wambly to a plate but his leg pulled Garrity off the platter. Such were the handiwork of Jeremiah Tecumseh was up.

Tristram Speaker again, perched in the limelight's rays and continued his wicked hitting. Three hits in as many times at bat were this a record of ten consecutive hits here. In addition he hammered in three runs, bringing two in after he had been injured in the seventh.

Speaker Injures Ankle. In running to second Speaker tripped over the bag and twisted his ankle badly. After it had been treated he refused to quit 's game until it had been stored in the cooler, after which he gave way to Jamieson.

Slim Caldwell started against the Nationals and yielded three runs. He was yanked in favor of Nelhaus in the seventh and he had walked Zachary and issued a couple of balls to Judge. Raps by Milan and Rice scored another run and Speaker again brought the hook into play, replacing the southpaw with Bagby. That was the last of the local chances. Jim had everything he is reputed to have.

Shanks' long triple over Speaker's head and a single by Governor Ellerbe counted the first local run in the second. In the fifth they made two more. Ellerbe and Garrity singled and Zachary fanned. Judge hit to Johnson, but Chapman muffed his peg to second for a force play and Ellerbe scored. Milan's rap to center brought Garrity across the pan.

Caldwell and Nelhaus collaborated to give the Nationals another hit in the seventh with one out, but Bagby put an end to their fun in abrupt fashion.

Here's how the Tribe scored four runs in the eighth: O'Neill, 1; Bagby, 1; Miller, 1; Speaker, 1. In the ninth: O'Neill, 1; Bagby, 1; Miller, 1; Speaker, 1.

NEW SOUTHPAW SIGNED BY GRIFF

Workman, Star of Florida State League, Joins Nationals Next Week.

Another youthful left-hander, with a winning minor league record, will don a Washington uniform next week.

Workman, who has only recently graduated from college, may not be able to step in and beat major league clubs right off.

While pitching for college team in the spring, Workman defeated the Indianapolis team, holding Jack Hendry's bunch to four hits.

He made such a good impression that Hendry tried to sign him and the Cincinnati Reds also put in a bid. At that time, however, he was still in school and decided to wait until he had completed his college course.

According to reports received by Griffith, Workman has won all of his games with Tampa this season, recently pitching both games of a double-header. He will leave Tampa next Tuesday to join the Nationals.

I have hopes of Workman," said Griffith, "but I am not going to stop here. I am still on the look-out for another good pitcher or two.

COLLYERS COMMENT on the SPORT OF KINGS

The Porter. If you want to take three to five for your dough and be riding on the softest thing of your turf career, why get aboard The Porter at Windsor.

In the sixth race a select crowd of canucks are fixing to kill "geese" with Romeo. True, Charlie Lydecker will be favorite, but then there's the info. The answer is in your little brown duke.

Over at Fort Erie I am taking the good Dr. Joe to hover at the bacon. Now, as I have all along contended, this horse is a bit better than ordinarily rated. Today he meets formidable opposition, especially in view of the fact that I know the trotter folks are down hook, line and sinker on Trotius.

Billy Bowlegs didn't have a wagger riding on Midnight Sun the other day, but when I think this is the one to be at, I said Dr. Joe.

King Herod has quite a call in the fifth. This is a mighty sweet sprinter and the soft track will suit him admirably. George Starr is fit and good, as is also Marjorie Hynes.

The latter has an outside chance to spill the beans. Down at Fort Erie good word passed along—from mouth to mouth—overnight is Simpleton. This nag was bet on throughout the country last time as if the race was fixed, only to be beaten. Not so this afternoon. You may go as far as you like. I am taking old Beaver-skill to trim the fashionable Whitney pair.

Dr. Clark is a sweet horse, but the price against Beaver-skill is too good. You can protect yourself. This was weighted the Henderson will be a tough nut to crack. Now watch and see.

Bradley's Choice is the jam in the third race. He should be able to gallop and beat this field. Chief Brown's last was a hummer, and I know they are "shooting" back. Harvest King may get an easy race here. Tab the ring action closely.

Dempsey to Defend Heavy-Weight Title Against Brennan

New York, July 9.—Jack Dempsey will defend his world's heavy-weight championship for the first time against Bill Brennan, the Chicago heavy.

The articles were signed today by Jack Kearns and Leo Flynn, the managers of the principals.

Benton Harbor, Philadelphia, Rochester, and New Orleans have bid for the fight with prices ranging from $40,000 to $60,000 for the champ's services.

Having called the hand of Georges Carpentier, and finding the Frenchman could not make good his challenges, Kearns turned his attention to offers with Brennan, Fred Fulton and Billy Mike.

"Brennan will be the best card against the champion," Kearns said after signing.

The meeting yesterday between Kearns and the Frenchman turned out just as predicted.

Kearns opened the meeting with a short history of the Frenchman's activities in America, how he had hurled challenges broadcast and backed away when he tried to pin him down to them.

"I am here with you now," he said, leaning over to Desamps. "I am ready to sign, post a forfeit and put the bout up to the highest bidder."

Carpentier leaves to morrow for France. He says he will return September 14.
